Newsletter #02/2022

This newsletter issue comes in pairs: two upcoming tdAcademy events, two short documentations of past activities and two recorded webinars to watch. Moreover, we have two news from the community: In our tdCommunity, we improved the search and filter functions - join in and/or edit your profile! And we are happy to share td-net's community call for insightful literature from 2021.

We wish you a very happy Easter or Passover - if you celebrate it - and a few relaxing days to everyone!

Event | 10 June, 9am-12.30pm (CEST): What does science get out of it?

In this workshop of our topic line 2 "Scientific Effects" we would like to discuss which effects transdisciplinary research has on science. Own experiences from different perspectives are very welcome. (Language: German)

Event | 9 May, 5-6.30pm (CEST):
Let's talk about it:
Transdisziplinarität & Co-
Production

In our online dialogue session, Sabine Hoffmann (Eawag) and Audrey Podann (TU Berlin) will discuss the concept of Integration Experts in transdisciplinary and transformative processes. Join in and don't forget to bring a drink! (Language: German)

Community | Recommend your favourites:
td-net Tour d'Horizon of Literature 2021

From your point of view, what are the publications on inter- and transdisciplinarity published in 2021 that are especially relevant, innovative and/or provocative? td-net is looking for expert recommendations until April 22nd.

Video | Peter Wehling on disputes about the scientificity of TD
research

During his tdAcademy residency, Peter Wehling examined the debate on transdisciplinarity. In this talk, he analyses the relationship between established science and transdisciplinarity and deconstructs the most common objections towards transdisciplinarity.

Video | Webinar with Sadaf Taimur on Design Thinking in Higher Education

In this capacity-building event, Sadaf Taimur focuses on discussing Design thinking as Digital Transformative Pedagogy in Higher Sustainability Education while elaborating on a case from Japan. It offers concrete practice, and lessons for curriculum development.

Lam, David, et al. (2022): Integrating context, formats and effects in transdisciplinary research

What are the key aspects of transdisciplinary research and how can they be integrated effectively?

Four key aspects of transdisciplinary research are: context dependencies, innovative formats, societal effects, and scientific effects. In this blogpost, these are illustrated in a comprehensive figure, along with a summary of an 'ideal' transdisciplinary research process.
